

Generosity Plan™

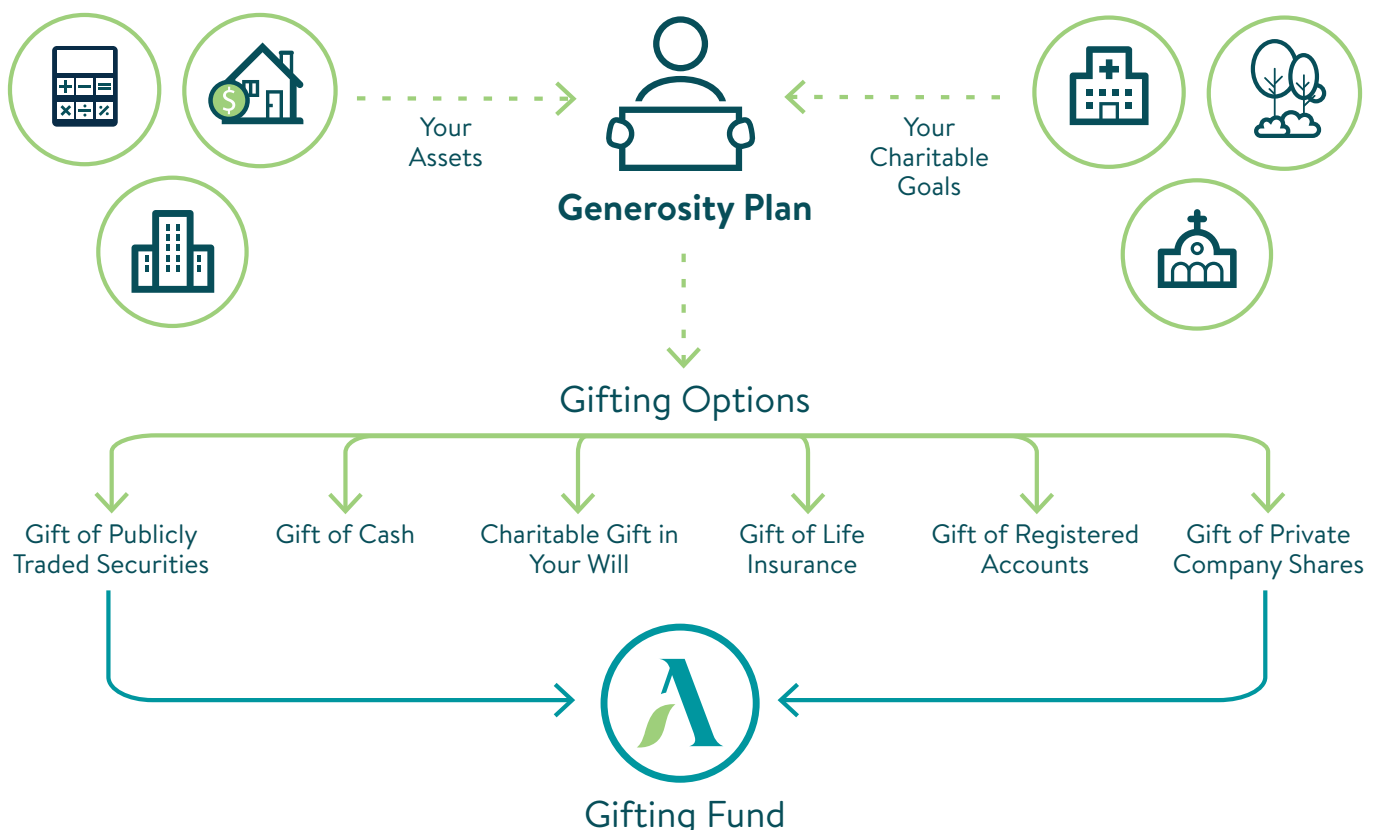

Charitable Giving Doesn't Happen Without a Plan

Plans help us to focus on what we want to accomplish and why, how we're going to get there, and what markers we'll create to make sure we stay on the right track. Charitable giving can often get lost among the demands of day-to-day life or be put off for a more convenient time. Reaching our charitable goals won't just happen on its own. We need to intentionally incorporate generosity into our overall planning.

Abundance Canada can help you create and implement a customized Generosity Plan™ that aligns with your philanthropic goals. It maps out the best strategic options for giving today, tomorrow and well into the future, while leaving enough flexibility to adapt to changing circumstances and explore new opportunities along the way.
